UPDATE: WESTCHESTER COUNTY HEAT ADVISORY, PARKS POOLS AND BEACHES OPEN ONE EXTRA HOUR DUE TO HEATWAVE & LIST OF COOLING CENTERS

ATTACHED TO THIS PRESS RELEASE IS ALSO A LIST OF COOLING CENTERS IN VARIOUS MUNICIPALITIES IN WESTCHESTER COUNTY

(White Plains, NY) – With extreme heat and humidity expected to make it feel well over 100 degrees Today through Saturday, the Westchester County Health Department has issued a heat advisory. As humidity and temperatures rise, residents should avoid strenuous activity, drink lots of water, avoid alcohol and caffeine, and take precautions to prevent heat-related illness. Additionally, with the “feels like” temperature expected to be over 100 degrees for the next few days, Westchester County Parks’ pools and beaches will stay open one hour longer, from Thursday, July 27 through Saturday, July 29, due to the heatwave.

Residents who need a place to cool off can check the New York State Cooling Center Finder. When it is too hot at home, senior centers, libraries, community centers and indoor malls offer a respite from the heat. Call before you go to be sure of the hours.

Attached to this press release is also a list of cooling centers in various municipalities in Westchester County.

Saxon Woods in White Plains, Sprain Ridge in Yonkers, The Brook at Tibbetts in Yonkers and Willson’s Waves in Mount Vernon, as well as Croton Point Beach in Croton-on-Hudson and Glen Island Beach in New Rochelle, will remain open until 7:30 p.m. with no admittance after 7 p.m. The extra hour is weather-permitting, as storms are expected intermittently over the next few days.

Proof of Westchester County residency is required at all four pools and Glen Island Beach. Admission fees apply; parking fees apply at The Brook at Tibbetts, Croton Point and Glen Island Beaches.

For tips to prevent heat-related illness and places to stay cool, residents can visit the Health Department website.

Elevated heat and humidity can also lead to unhealthy levels of ozone, a gas produced by the action of sunlight on organic air contaminants from auto exhaust and other sources. For air quality updates, go to airnow.gov. The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation forecasts daily ozone conditions, or call the New York State Air Quality Hotline at 1-800-535-1345.

The County's Department of Emergency Services is monitoring the weather forecast, tracking the opening of local Cooling Centers and is in contact with Con Edison and NYSEG concerning the potential for power outages.
